1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Anton Agoshkov, individually and as the putative assignee of the claims of 3 Lead Plaintiff Natissisa Enterprises Ltd., and Plaintiffs Braden Van Der Wall and 4 Steven Romanoff (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) respectfully submit this 5 memorandum in support of their unopposed motion for an order preliminarily 6 approving the proposed settlement (“Settlement”) of this action embodied in the 7 Stipulation.¹ The proposed Settlement was reached after the parties engaged in 8 hard-fought litigation and arm’s length settlement negotiations. Based on a 9 thorough understanding of the facts and the law, the parties agreed to the proposed 10 Settlement which consists of a payment of $13,850,000 in cash. If approved, it 11 will fully resolve this action filed in December 2016 on behalf of a class of people 12 who purchased or otherwise acquired common stock of Illumina, Inc. (“Illumina” 13 or the “Company”) during the period between July 26, 2016, and October 10, 14 2016, inclusive (“Settlement Class”).

15 In determining whether preliminary approval is warranted, the sole issue 16 before the Court is whether the proposed Settlement is within the range of what 17 might be found to be fair, reasonable and adequate so that notice of the proposed 18 Settlement can be given to members of the Settlement Class and a hearing can be 19 scheduled to consider final settlement approval. The Settlement clearly meets 20 these criteria. As discussed below, while Plaintiffs believe their claims are 21 meritorious, significant issues exist with respect to liability and damages, and 22 therefore the $13,850,000 cash fund that will be created under the parties’ 23 agreement represents a beneficial resolution of the Litigation and the Settlement 24 is in the best interests of the Settlement Class.

25 _____
26 ¹ Unless otherwise stated, capitalized terms have the same meaning as in the 27 Stipulation.

1 Because all the requirements for settlement approval are met, the Court 2 should certify the Settlement Class for settlement purposes only. Also, because 3 the Plan of Allocation is fair, reasonable and adequate, it should be preliminarily 4 approved. Finally, the Court should schedule a final approval hearing to determine 5 whether the proposed Settlement, the Plan of Allocation, and Lead Counsel’s 6 request for attorneys’ fees and reimbursement of expenses should be finally 7 approved as fair, reasonable and adequate.

8 II. SUMMARY OF LITIGATION AND SETTLEMENT
9 NEGOTIATIONS

10 A. Plaintiffs’ Claims and Allegations

11 Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of all persons who purchased or 12 otherwise acquired Illumina common stock during the period between July 26, 13 2016, and October 10, 2016, inclusive (the “Class Period”). Plaintiffs’ Amended 14 Complaint for Violation of Federal Securities Laws (the “Amended Complaint”)² 15 alleges that Defendants made false and/or materially misleading statements about 16 Illumina’s ability to accurately and truthfully disclose that demand for its “HiSeq” 17 sequencing instrument was decreasing, that Illumina’s disclosures relating the 18 resulting earning projections were otherwise misleading, and that control person 19 liability had attached. Specifically, the Amended Complaint alleges that, during 20 the Class Period, Defendants made false and/or misleading statements and/or 21 failed to disclose that: (1) the Company lacked adequate internal controls over 22 financial reporting; and (2) as a result of the foregoing, the Company’s financial 23 statement were materially false and misleading at all relevant times.

24 The Amended Complaint further alleges that the truth emerged on October 25

26 ² Plaintiffs filed the Amended Complaint on May 30, 2017. ECF 28.

1 10, 2016, when Illumina issued a press release announcing that third quarter 2 revenue amounted to approximately $607 million, significantly lower than 3 Defendants' previous forecast of $625 million to $630 million. According to the 4 Amended Complaint, Defendants revealed that the revenue shortfall was 5 attributable to "a larger than anticipated year-over-year decline in high throughput 6 sequencing instruments," which included the HiSeq instrument. The Amended 7 Complaint alleges that the release of this news caused Illumina's stock price to 8 decline. From a closing market price of $184.85 per share on October 10, 2016, 9 Illumina's stock price fell to $138.99 per share on October 11, 2016, a decline of 10 nearly 25%.

11 Defendants have denied and continue to deny all wrongdoing and maintain 12 that their conduct was at all times proper and in compliance with applicable 13 provisions of law. Defendants have denied and continue to deny all of the claims 14 and contentions alleged by the Plaintiffs in this Litigation and deny that they have 15 committed any of the wrongful acts or violations of law that are alleged in the 16 Litigation, including that they made any material misrepresentations or omissions.
17 Defendants expressly have denied and continue to vigorously deny all charges of 18 wrongdoing or liability against them arising out of any of the conduct, statements, 19 acts or omissions alleged, or that could have been alleged, in the Litigation.

20 B. Procedural History and Settlement Negotiations

21 On December 16, 2016, plaintiff Yi Fan Chen and Frontline Global 22 Trading Pte. Ltd. filed a class action complaint in the United States District Court 23 for the Southern District of California against Defendants. The complaint alleged 24 violations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The complaint was styled 25 Chen v. Illumina Inc., et al., No. 3:16-cv-3044. ECF. No. 1.

1 On January 10, 2017, plaintiff James McLeod filed a second class action 2 complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of 3 California against Defendants. The complaint was substantially similar to the 4 complaint filed by Yi Fan Chen and Frontline Global Trading Pte. Ltd. and 5 included the same allegations of violations under the Securities Exchange Act of 6 1934 as the Chen complaint. The complaint was styled McLeod v. Illumina Inc., 7 et al., No. 3:17-cv-00053.

8 On March 30, 2017, the District Court consolidated the Chen and McLeod
9 actions and appointed Natissisa Enterprises Ltd. as Lead Plaintiff and Levi &
10 Korsinsky, LLP, as Lead Counsel pursuant to the Private Securities Litigation 11 Reform Act of 1995, 15 U.S.C. §78u-4. ECF No. 19.

12 On May 30, 2017, Lead Plaintiff filed the Amended Complaint asserting 13 securities fraud claims against Defendants based, inter alia, on allegations that 14 Illumina failed to accurately and truthfully disclose that demand for its “HiSeq” 15 sequencing instrument was decreasing, that Illumina’s disclosures relating the 16 resulting earning projections were otherwise misleading, and that control person
17 liability had attached. Lead Plaintiff alleged that Defendants had committed fraud 18 under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and SEC Rule 10b-19 5 by, in pertinent part, falsely representing that Illumina was expecting to earn 20 revenue of between $625 million and $630 million in the third quarter of 2016.
21 Lead Plaintiff asserted these allegations on behalf of itself and a class of 22 shareholders of Illumina who purchased shares between July 26, 2016 and 23 October 10, 2016. ECF No. 28.

24 On July 31, 2017, the Defendants moved to dismiss the Amended 25 Complaint. ECF No. 32. Lead Plaintiff filed its opposition to the motion to 26

1 dismiss on September 29, 2017. ECF No. 34. Defendants filed a brief in reply
2 and further support of the motion to dismiss on November 13, 2017. ECF No. 35.

3 The District Court denied in part and granted in part the motion to dismiss 4 as to certain allegations on January 22, 2018. ECF No. 39.

5 On March 7, 2018, Defendants filed their answer. ECF No. 49.

6 The parties began discovery promptly after completing the meeting 7 requirements under Rule 26(f). On May 4, 2018, the parties exchanged initial 8 disclosures pursuant to Rule 26(a). On May 25, 2018, Lead Plaintiff served initial 9 requests for production of documents and interrogatories on Defendants. On June 10 5, 2018, Defendants served initial requests for production of documents on Lead 11 Plaintiff. Additional requests for production of documents were served by the 12 parties over the course of the following months.

13 Lead Plaintiff focused its discovery efforts on, among other things, 14 Defendants' processes for forecasting revenue, various factors that caused 15 estimates to vary from actual results, measures implemented by Defendants to 16 improve forecasting processes, specific orders during the relevant period that 17 failed to materialize into sales, the effect of Defendants' public statements on the 18 market for Illumina's securities, and the damages caused by Defendants' alleged 19 fraud. Meanwhile, Defendants focused their discovery efforts on Lead Plaintiff's 20 typicality and adequacy for purposes of class certification under Rule 23, 21 including assignments of claims by and between Lead Plaintiff and its owners 22 and/or managers.

23 On September 12, 2018, Lead Plaintiff moved to amend the Amended 24 Complaint in order to include Anton Agoshkov as an additional named plaintiff.
25 Anton Agoshkov had been supervising the litigation on behalf of Lead Plaintiff 26 and, given that Lead Plaintiff had decided to voluntarily unwind its operations,

27 MPA ISO PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

28 3:16-cv-03044-L-MSB

1 Lead Plaintiff sought to include Anton Agoshkov as a named plaintiff in the case
2 for the purpose of seeking his certification as a class representative. ECF No. 62.

3 On September 14, 2018, Lead Plaintiff and Anton Agoshkov moved for 4 class certification pursuant to Rule 23. In support of the motion, Lead Plaintiff 5 submitted a declaration from Anton Agoshkov attesting to his ability to serve as 6 class representative as well as an expert declaration from Michael Hartzmark, 7 Ph.D., analyzing the efficiency of the market for Illumina's securities. ECF No.
8 63. Defendants opposed the motion, but the Court had not rendered a decision on 9 the motion prior to the date of this Stipulation.

10 On October 4, 2018, Plaintiffs Braden Van Der Wall and Steven Romanoff 11 filed an additional action in the United States District Court for the Southern 12 District of California against Defendants with the assistance of Lead Counsel.
13 The complaint was substantially similar to Lead Plaintiff's Amended Complaint.
14 The complaint was styled Van Der Wall et ano. v. Illumina Inc., et al., No.
15 3:2018-cv-02307.

16 On December 14, 2018, the parties submitted a joint request to the Court 17 to extend various case management deadlines, including the deadline to complete 18 fact discovery, in order to provide the parties more time to complete document 19 discovery and depositions as well as participate in a private mediation. ECF No.
20 83. The Court granted the parties' joint request. ECF No. 84.

21 On January 8, 2019, the Court denied Lead Plaintiff's motion to amend 22 without prejudice. ECF No. 85.

23 On or around January 30, 2019, the parties scheduled a mediation with 24 David Geronemus, Esq., at JAMS, for April 18, 2019.

25 The parties continued discovery until the mediation on April 18, 2019. In 26 total, the parties exchanged over 200,000 pages of party and non-party document

1 discovery and conducted depositions of Lead Plaintiff, Lead Plaintiff's expert, 2 and Illumina. The parties had also scheduled depositions for at least two 3 additional witnesses on behalf of Defendants. Lead Plaintiff had also served a 4 number of non-party subpoenas and had filed a motion to compel against one of 5 the entities in federal court.

6 The parties submitted extensive briefing to the mediator before the 7 mediation, including opening briefs and reply briefs. The parties also prepared 8 presentations for a joint session at the opening of the mediation. After a full day 9 of negotiation, the parties tentatively agreed to a settlement.

10 III. THE PROPOSED TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

11 A. Settlement Class Definition

12 The Settlement Class includes all persons or entities who purchased or 13 otherwise acquired a legal or beneficial ownership interest in Illumina's common 14 stock between July 26, 2016 through October 10, 2016, inclusive. Excluded from 15 the Settlement Class are (i) any putative Settlement Class Members who exclude 16 themselves by filing a timely and valid request for exclusion in accordance with 17 the requirements set forth in the Notice; (ii) Defendants and their family members; 18 (iii) any entity in which Defendants have or had a controlling interest; (iv) the 19 officers and directors of Illumina during the Class Period; and (iv) the legal 20 representatives, agents, executors, successors, or assigns of any of the foregoing 21 excluded persons or entities, in their capacities as such.

22 B. Monetary Consideration and Plan of Allocation

23 Under the terms of the proposed Settlement, the parties have agreed that 24 Defendants will cause their insurers to make a cash payment of thirteen million 25 eight-hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($13,850,000), as set forth in greater 26 detail in ¶¶ 1 – 3 of the Stipulation. The $13,850,00 in cash will be deposited into

1 the Settlement Fund (as defined in ¶ qq of the Stipulation) within twenty (20) 2 business days after the Court enters an order granting preliminary approval of the 3 Settlement or after the provision of wire transfer and payment information, 4 whichever date is later. See Stipulation at ¶ 1. Any interest earned will be for the 5 benefit of the Settlement Class. See id. at ¶ 8.

6 Lead Counsel has considered the issues of liability and damages in 7 determining an appropriate proposed Plan of Allocation. Lead Counsel did not 8 favor or consider the particular trading history of the Plaintiffs or of any other 9 individual member of the Settlement Class in crafting this plan. Lead Counsel 10 consulted with a damages expert experienced in the area of class action securities 11 fraud litigation when developing the proposed Plan of Allocation.

12 A copy of the Plan of Allocation is set forth in the Notice of Pendency and 13 Proposed Settlement of Class Action. See Stipulation at Ex. A-1, pp. 9-12.

14 C. Release Provisions

15 As fully set forth in ¶ 6-8 of the Stipulation, upon the Effective Date, as 16 defined in ¶ o of the Stipulation, Plaintiffs and each Settlement Class Member, on 17 behalf of themselves, their successors and assigns, and any other Person claiming 18 by or through them, regardless of whether they ever seek or obtain by any means, 19 including without limitation by submitting a Proof of Claim, any disbursement 20 from the Settlement Fund, shall be deemed to (a) have released, waived, 21 discharged and dismissed each and every of the Released Claims against the 22 Released Parties; (b) forever be enjoined from commencing, instituting or 23 prosecuting any or all of the Released Claims against any of the Released Parties; 24 and (c) forever be enjoined from instituting, continuing, maintaining or asserting, 25 either directly or indirectly, whether in the United States or elsewhere, on their 26 own behalf or on behalf of any class or any other person, any action, suit, cause

1 of action, claim, or demand against any person or entity who may claim any form 2 of contribution or indemnity from any of the Defendant Released Parties in 3 respect of any Released Claim. Nothing contained herein shall, however, bar the 4 Releasing Parties from bringing any action or claim to enforce the terms of this 5 Stipulation or the Final Judgment.

6 As fully set forth in ¶ kk of the Stipulation, Released Claims shall mean any 7 and all claims (including Unknown Claims as defined in ¶ aaa of the Stipulation), 8 that (1) that have been or could have been asserted in any of the Complaints filed 9 in this action, or (2) that, directly or indirectly, arise out of or are related to (i) any 10 of the factual allegations in the Complaints, (ii) any misrepresentation or omission 11 or alleged misrepresentation or omission by any Released Party before or during 12 the Class Period related to or in connection with Illumina, or any of its 13 subsidiaries, or the purchase or sale of Illumina Common Stock or (iii) any loss 14 sustained or allegedly sustained as a result of the purchase, sale, or holding 15 Illumina Common Stock during the Class Period.

16 D. Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses

17 Lead Counsel will apply to the Court for an award of attorneys' fees in an 18 amount not to exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the total Settlement Fund (or 19 approximately $3,462,500). Lead Counsel will also apply to the Court for a 20 reimbursement of its reasonable expenses incurred through the Litigation (not to 21 exceed $180,000).

22 E. The Court's Continuing Jurisdiction

23 If the Court grants final approval of the proposed Settlement, the parties 24 will request that the Court enter a final judgment of dismissal. The Court will 25 retain jurisdiction with respect to the implementation and enforcement of the 26 terms of the Settlement, and all parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the

1 Magistrate Judge for purposes of implementing and enforcing the Settlement. See 2 Stipulation at ¶ 62.

3 IV. PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF THE PROPOSED 4 SETTLEMENT IS APPROPRIATE

5 A. The Settlement Approval Process

6 Rule 23(e) requires that before a class action is dismissed or compromised, 7 notice of the proposed dismissal or compromise must be given in the manner 8 directed by the Court and judicial approval must be obtained. To that end, the 9 Court must find that the proposed settlement is “fundamentally fair, adequate, and 10 reasonable. In re Omnivision Tech., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1040 (N.D. Cal.
11 2008) (quoting Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 959 (9th Cir. 2003) (internal 12 citations omitted)). A settlement agreement is presumptively fair if it “was 13 reached in arm’s length negotiations, after relevant discovery had taken place.”
14 Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, No. C-96-3008 DLJ, 1997 WL 450064, at *5 15 (N.D. Cal. Jul. 18, 1997). Here, the settlement was reached following a detailed 16 investigation by Plaintiffs’ counsel, extensive litigation in the District Court, 17 extensive discovery, and arms’ length negotiations between counsel experienced 18 in securities class action litigation. The settlement is thus entitled to a presumption 19 of fairness.

20 Moreover, the Ninth Circuit has a policy favoring settlement, “particularly 21 in class action suits.” Omnivision, 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1041; see also Officers for 22 Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982) (stating that “it 23 must not be overlooked that voluntary conciliation and settlement are the 24 preferred means of dispute resolution. This is especially true in complex class 25 action litigation . . .”). The court’s inquiry into the settlement agreement is 26 ultimately limited to the extent necessary to make a judgment that the agreement

1 is not “the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the 2 negotiating parties.” Omnivision, 559 F.Supp. 2d at 1041(internal citations
3 omitted). Thus, the court “need not reach the merits of the case or form 4 conclusions about the underlying questions of law or fact” in determining the 5 fairness, reasonableness and adequacy of a settlement agreement. Id.

6 B. The Proposed Settlement Meets the Requirements for 7 Preliminary Approval

8
9 At the preliminary approval stage, the Court must conduct a “prima facie 10 review of the relief and notice” provided by the settlement agreement before the 11 Court orders notice to be sent. Browing v. Yahoo! Inc., No., C04-01463 HRL, 12 2006 WL 3826714, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 27, 2006). The court must find the 13 release to be “fair and reasonable” and the notice to be “adequate.” Id. at *7-8.
14 Ultimately, in making a final determination of whether the proposed Settlement 15 is fair, adequate, and reasonable, the Court will balance some or all of the 16 following factors:

17 [T]he strength of plaintiffs’ case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely 18 duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class action status 19 throughout the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of 20 discovery completed and the state of the proceedings; the experience and 21 views of counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and the 22 reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

23 See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998).
24 Consideration of these factors shows that the proposed Settlement now before the 25 Court falls squarely within the range of reasonableness warranting notice of the 26 proposed Settlement to members of the Settlement Class and scheduling a final 27 approval hearing.

1. The risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation

Plaintiffs believe that the case has merit and that they will be able to establish Defendants’ liability at trial. Nevertheless, Plaintiffs recognize that, were they to continue prosecution of this action, they would face substantial risks. Litigation of the claims alleged in this case raised a number of complex questions that required substantial efforts by Plaintiffs. One critical risk faced by Plaintiffs was that the alleged misrepresentation in this matter was “forward-looking” and therefore subject to protection under the safe harbor provision of the Exchange Act. While Plaintiffs defeated Defendants’ argument on this point at the motion to dismiss stage, the evidentiary record at that point was limited and Defendants were likely to introduce additional examples of “cautionary language” that could have been dispositive at summary judgment.

Plaintiffs also faced a significant risk with respect to proving damages at trial. While the decline in Illumina’s stock price at the end of the Class Period was approximately $45 per share, Defendants would likely have introduced evidence at trial showing that only a small portion of the decline was attributable to the alleged fraud (thus leaving the majority of Plaintiffs’ damages not recoverable). A jury could have accepted Defendants’ arguments on this point, especially considering the fact that Illumina’s stock price only increased by approximately $10 per share at the beginning of the Class Period when the alleged misrepresentation was initially made.

Whatever the outcome on these issues, an appeal likely would have been taken. All of the foregoing would have posed considerable expense to the parties, and would have delayed any financial recovery for several years, assuming that Plaintiffs ultimately succeeded on their claims. For their part, Defendants have

1 denied the material allegations of the Complaint and have vigorously asserted that 2 Illumina shareholders have not sustained any damages as a result of the alleged 3 misconduct.

4 In view of the complexity, expense, and likely duration of the litigation, 5 without a settlement, this is a realistic possibility that Plaintiffs and the Settlement 6 Class members would ultimately receive nothing. In all events, protracted and 7 highly complex further litigation without a reasonably predictable outcome would 8 ensue if this case were not resolved at this time.

9 2. Amount Offered in Settlement

10 As discussed above, a Settlement Fund of $13,850,000 in cash will be 11 created under the terms of the proposed Settlement. Plaintiffs estimated damages 12 of approximately $300 million. While this represents a 4.6% recovery, even a 13 “small recovery may be fair, reasonable, and adequate.” Gudimetla v. Ambow 14 Educ. Holding, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 195147, *18 (C.D. Cal. December 2, 15 2014) (preliminarily approving a settlement of for alleged violations of Rule 10b-16 5 and 20(a) of the Exchange Act as well as Section 11 of the Securities Act where 17 recovery would be only be approximately $0.06 per share on shares originally 18 purchased for $10.00); see In re Prudential Sec., Inc. L.P. Litig., 1995 WL 798907 19 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 20, 1995) (approving settlement of between 1.6% and 5% of 20 claimed damages); In re Cendant Corp. Litig., 264 F.3d 201, 240 (3d. Cir. 2001) 21 (typical recoveries in securities class actions range from 1.6% to 14% of total 22 losses).

23 According to a 2018 report by Cornerstone Research (a leading economic 24 consulting firm that tracks class action securities fraud litigation), the median 25 settlement in Rule 10b-5 cases as a percentage of overall damages in cases with 26

1 approximately $300 million in damages was 3.9%.³ Meanwhile, the same report
2 published by NERA Economic Consulting (another leading economic consulting 3 firm that tracks class action securities fraud litigation) concluded that the median 4 settlement as a percentage of overall damages in cases of this size was 2.6%.⁴ 5 These percentages provide assurance that the settlement before the Court is 6 reasonable under the circumstances given the size of the case.

7 8 3. The Stage of the Proceedings

9 The parties reached the proposed Settlement after substantial discussions 10 and during discovery and briefing on Plaintiffs' class certification motion. With 11 the benefit of extensive discovery, Plaintiffs were able to properly gauge the 12 likelihood of succeeding on the merits and evaluate the appropriateness of the 13 Settlement. Thus, Lead Counsel conducted a thorough examination regarding the 14 impact of Defendants' alleged conduct on the Settlement Class members and the 15 alleged damages, and were able to act intelligently in negotiating the proposed 16 Settlement.

17 4. The Proposed Settlement Resulted from Arm's Length
18 Negotiations and Did Not Involve Any Collusion

19 The parties reached the proposed Settlement after substantial discussions, 20 including formal mediation before David Geronemus, Esq., at JAMS. The parties 21 submitted extensive briefing to the mediator before the mediation, including

1 opening briefs and reply briefs. The parties also prepared presentations for a joint 2 session at the opening of the mediation. After a full day of negotiation, the parties 3 tentatively agreed to a settlement. There should be no question that the proposal 4 was negotiated at arm's length.

5 Moreover, counsel for each party is experienced and thoroughly familiar 6 with the factual and legal issues. Courts recognize that the opinion of experienced 7 and informed counsel supporting a settlement is entitled to considerable weight.
8 See Bellows v. NCO Financial Sys., Inc., No. 3:07-CV-01413-W-AJB, 2008 WL
9 5458986, at *8 (S.D. Cal. Dec. 10, 2008) (finding that "it is the considered 10 judgment of experienced counsel that this settlement is a fair, reasonable, and 11 adequate settlement of the litigation, which should be given great weight"); see 12 also Alberto v. GMRI, No. Civ. 07-1895 WBS DAD, 2008 WL 4891201, at *10 13 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 12, 2008) (stating that "when approving class action settlements, 14 the court must give considerable weight to class counsel's opinions due to 15 counsel's familiarity with the litigation and its previous experience with class 16 action lawsuits").

17 For the reasons summarized above, Lead Counsel believes, based on their 18 experience, knowledge of the strengths and weaknesses of the case, and all other 19 factors considered in evaluating proposed class action settlements, that the 20 proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate and in the best interests of 21 the members of the Settlement Class.

22 5. Any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23 23(e)(3)

24 Aside from the Stipulation, the parties have entered into the Supplemental 25 Agreement. The Supplemental Agreement, as described in the Stipulation, 26 provides Illumina with the right to terminate the Settlement if a certain number of 1 Class Members exceeds a threshold. See Stipulation at ¶¶ ee. The Supplemental 2 Agreement is “confidential” as is customarily the case. See Hefler v. Wells Fargo

3 & Co., No. 16-cv-05479-JST, 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 150292, at *23 (N.D. Cal.
4 Sep. 4, 2018) (allowing confidential filing of supplemental agreement in order to 5 “avoid the risk that one or more shareholders might use this knowledge to insist 6 on a higher payout for themselves by threatening to break up the Settlement.”); 7 Thomas v. MagnaChip Semiconductor Corp., No. 14-CV-01160, 2017 U.S. Dist.
8 LEXIS 174353, 2017 WL 4750628, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 20, 2017) (same).

9 C. The Settlement Treats Class Members Equitably

10 The Settlement treats Class Members equitably. This is because the 11 proposed Plan of Allocation treats all claimants uniformly. “[A]n allocation 12 formula need only have a reasonable, rational basis, particularly if recommended 13 by experienced and competent class counsel.” In re Anthem, Inc. Data Breach 14 Litig., 327 F.R.D. 299, 332 (N.D. Cal. 2018) (citation omitted); see Vinh Nguyen
15 v. Radiant Pharm. Corp., No. SACV 11-00406 DOC, 2014 WL 1802293, at *5 16 (C.D. Cal. May 6, 2014). Further, courts enjoy “broad supervisory powers over 17 the administration of class-action settlements to allocate the proceeds among the 18 claiming class members equitably.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g Corp., No. CV-05-19 3222 R(MC_x), 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 74849, at *76 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 10, 2007) 20 (citing Hammon v Barry, 752 F. Supp. 1087, 1095 (D. D.C. 1990) (internal 21 quotations and citations omitted)).

22 As described in the Notice (Stipulation, Exhibit A-1), the Plan of Allocation 23 has a rational basis and was formulated by Class Counsel ensuring its fairness and 24 reliability. See In re Veeco Instruments Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 05 MDL 0165, 2007 25 WL 4115809, at *13 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 7, 2007). Under the proposed Plan of 26

1 Allocation, each Authorized Claimant will receive their pro rata share of their 2 Recognized Loss depending upon the number of Illumina shares purchased 3 during the Class Period and held at the close of trading on October 10, 2016. The 4 Plan of Allocation is based upon the premise that Class Members sustained 5 damages by purchasing Illumina’s common stock at artificially inflated prices.
6 Accordingly, the proposed Plan of Allocation seeks to compensate Class 7 Members in accordance with the devaluation that Illumina common stock 8 experienced when corrective disclosures entered into the public sphere. The Plan 9 of Allocation relies on the corrective disclosures listed in the Amended Complaint 10 along with other disclosures that are legally and factually relevant according to 11 Class Counsel’s consultation with experts, which is common in securities class 12 actions. In re Datatec Sys., Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 04-CV-525, 2007 WL 4225828, 13 at *5 (D.N.J. Nov. 28, 2007); see also In re Gen. Instrument Sec. Litig., 209 F.
14 Supp. 2d 423, 431 (E.D. Pa. 2001) (deeming plan of allocation where “claimants 15 are to be reimbursed on a pro rata basis for their recognized losses based largely 16 on when they bought and sold their shares of [company] stock” as “even handed”).

17 The Plan of Allocation is substantially similar to other plans of allocation 18 that have been approved and successfully implemented in other securities class 19 action settlements, including within this Circuit. See Veeco, 2007 WL 4115809, 20 at *14 (“Each valid claim will then be calculated so that each authorized claimant 21 will receive, on a proportionate basis, the share of the net settlement fund that the 22 claimant’s recognized loss bears to the total recognized loss of all authorized 23 claimants.”); Global Crossing, 225 F.R.D. at 462 (“Pro-rata distribution of 24 settlement funds based on investment loss is clearly a reasonable approach.”). In 25 assessing a proposed plan of allocation, the Court may give great weight to the 26 opinion of informed counsel. See, e.g., Chavarria v. N.Y. Airport Serv., LLC, 875

27 MPA ISO PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

28 3:16-cv-03044-L-MSB

1 F. Supp. 2d 164, 175 (E.D.N.Y. 2012) (“In determining whether a plan of 2 allocation is fair, courts look primarily to the opinion of counsel. That is, ‘as a 3 general rule, the adequacy of an allocation plan turns on whether counsel has 4 properly apprised itself of the merits of all claims, and whether the proposed 5 apportionment is fair and reasonable in light of that information.’”). Accordingly, 6 given Class Counsel’s opinion concerning the Plan of Allocation, this factor 7 weighs in favor of granting preliminary approval.

8 V. PROVISIONAL CERTIFICATION OF THE SETTLEMENT
9 CLASS UNDER RULE 23 IS APPROPRIATE

10 For the sole purpose of implementing the proposed Settlement, Plaintiffs 11 seek and Defendants agree to the certification of a Settlement Class defined as all 12 persons or entities, including, without limitation, their beneficiaries, that 13 purchased or otherwise acquired purchased or otherwise acquired Illumina’s 14 common stock between July 26, 2016, and October 10, 2016 (inclusive), with the 15 exclusions noted above in the Settlement Class Definition. Before a class may be 16 certified, the following requirements of Rule 23(a) must be satisfied: (a) the class 17 is so numerous that joinder of all class members is impracticable; (b) there are 18 questions of law or fact common to the class; (c) the claims or defenses of the 19 representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and (d) the 20 representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.
21 See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1019.

22 As discussed below, certification of a settlement class is appropriate here.

with scienter;

- (c) Whether the statements made by Defendants to the investing public during the Class Period misrepresented material facts about Illumina’s ability to correctly forecast declining instrument sales;
- (d) Whether Defendants acted knowingly or recklessly in issuing false and misleading financial statements;
- (e) Whether the prices of Illumina common stock during the Class Period were artificially inflated because of Defendants’ conduct complained of herein; and
- (f) To what extent the Settlement Class members have sustained damages, and the proper measure of damages.

Accordingly, Rule 23(a)(2) is met.

C. Plaintiffs’ Claims Are Typical of Those of the Settlement Class

A plaintiff’s claims will be deemed typical if “they are reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class members; they need not be substantially identical.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020; see also Schaefer v. Overland Express Family of Funds, 169 F.R.D. 124, 128-29 (S.D. Cal. 1996) (finding that typicality was met even though defendant claimed that the vast majority of shares were purchased by institutional investors rather than small investors and that plaintiff relied on oral representations of his broker). The heart of the inquiry is whether the representative’s claims and the class claims are interrelated so that class treatment is economical. Gen. Tel. Co. of Southwest v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147 (1982).

Here, Plaintiffs’ claims are similar to the claims of the other Settlement Class members. Defendants’ alleged course of conduct described in the Amended Complaint uniformly affected all Settlement Class members, as they each

1 allegedly suffered economic injury from the decline in market value following the 2 corrective disclosures. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the other Settlement Class 3 members because, like all other Settlement Class members, they allegedly were 4 injured when the truth about Illumina's inability to forecast declining sales of 5 instruments was revealed. Thus, the typicality requirement of Rule 23(a)(3) is 6 met.

7 D. Plaintiffs Are Adequate Representatives of the Settlement Class

8 The purpose of the adequacy requirement is to "uncover conflicts of interest 9 between named parties and the class they seek to represent." Amchem Prods., Inc.
10 v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 594 (1997). The factors relevant to a determination of 11 adequacy are: (1) the absence of potential conflicts between the named plaintiff 12 and his counsel with other class members; and (2) that counsel chosen by the 13 representative party is qualified, experienced and able with the named plaintiff to 14 vigorously conduct the litigation. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020.

15 There are no apparent conflicts of interest between Plaintiffs and the absent 16 Settlement Class members. Plaintiffs have been committed to the vigorous 17 prosecution of this action from the outset and have reached a resolution that they 18 believe is in the best interests of the Settlement Class. Plaintiffs have been 19 engaged during the settlement negotiation process and support this motion and the 20 Settlement it requests. Moreover, the Court previously determined that Lead 21 Counsel, Levi & Korsinsky is qualified to represent the Settlement Class.

22 E. The Requirements Of Rule 23(b)(3) Are Also Satisfied

23 Rule 23(b)(3) authorizes class certification where, in addition to the 24 requirements of Rule 23(a), common questions of law or fact predominate over 25 any individual questions and a class action is superior to other available means of 26

1 adjudication. See Amchem, 521 U.S. at 607. This case easily meets Rule 2 23(b)(3)’s requirements.

3 1. Common Legal and Factual Questions Predominate

4 “Predominance is a test readily met in certain cases alleging . . . securities 5 fraud” Amchem, 521 U.S. at 625. In this securities fraud case, Defendants’ 6 alleged liability arises from their conduct with respect to Illumina’s ability to 7 forecast a decline in instrument sales. Whether Defendants’ publicly 8 disseminated releases and statements during the Class Period omitted and/or 9 misrepresented material facts is the central issue in this case and predominates 10 over any individual issue that theoretically might arise. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 11 1022 (stating that Rule 23(b)(3) is satisfied where “[a] common nucleus of facts 12 and potential legal remedies dominates [the] litigation”). Thus, the predominance 13 requirement is satisfied here.

14 2. A Class Action is the Superior Means to Adjudicate
15 Plaintiffs’ and Members of the Settlement Class’s Claims

16 The second prong of Rule 23(b)(3) is essentially satisfied by the proposed 17 Settlement itself. As explained in Amchem, “[c]onfronted with a request for 18 settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the 19 case, if tried, would present intractable management problems for the proposal is 20 that there be no trial.” 521 U.S. at 620 (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3)(D)). Thus, 21 any manageability problems that may have existed here—and Plaintiffs know of 22 none—are eliminated by the Settlement. In any event, given the alternatives, e.g., 23 unnecessarily burdening the judiciary with numerous actions involving relatively 24 small amounts of damages, which “would prove uneconomic for potential 25

1 plaintiffs” where “litigation costs would dwarf potential recovery,” resolving this 2 case on a class-wide basis is clearly preferable. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1023.

3 VI. THE PROPOSED NATURE AND METHOD OF CLASS NOTICE
4 ARE CONSTITUTIONALLY SOUND AND APPROPRIATE

5 Preliminary approval of the proposed Settlement permits notice to be given 6 to the Settlement Class members of a hearing on final settlement approval, at 7 which they and the settling parties may be heard with respect to final approval.
8 See Manual for Complex Litigation, Third, §23.14 (West ed. 1995). Here, the 9 parties propose that notice be given principally by U.S. mail. See Stipulation, 10 Exhibit A at ¶ 12. In addition, the Stipulation provides for publication of a 11 summary notice, which will be published on the claims administrator website and 12 in a national business newswire. See id. at ¶ 15.

13 The proposed form of mailed notice (Exhibit A-1 to the Stipulation), 14 provides the following details of the Stipulation to prospective members of the 15 Settlement Class in a fair, concise and neutral way: (1) the existence of and their 16 rights with respect to the class action, including the requirement for timely opting 17 out of the Settlement Class; and (2) the Settlement with Defendants and their 18 rights with respect to the Settlement. The proposed form of summary notice 19 (Exhibit A-3 to the Stipulation), provides essential information about the 20 Litigation and the Settlement, including an address for potential class members to 21 write in order to obtain the full long form of notice.

22 The means and forms of notice proposed here constitute valid and sufficient 23 notice to the Settlement Class, the best notice practicable under the circumstances, 24 and comply fully with the requirements of Rule 23 and due process. See e.g., In 25 re Cement and Concrete Antitrust Litig., 817 F.2d 1435, 1440 (9th Cir. 1987), 26 rev'd on other grounds, 490 U.S. 93 (1989) (stating that “notice is satisfactory if

1 it ‘generally describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those 2 with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard’”) (internal citation omitted); Torrison v. Tucson Elec. Power Co., 8 F.3d 1370, 1374
 3 (9th Cir. 1993); In re Equity Funding Corp. of Am Sec. Litig., 603 F.2d 1353, 1361
 4 (9th Cir. 1979) (directing that class notice must “present a fair recital of the subject 5 matter and proposed terms” and provide “an opportunity to be heard to all class 6 members”) (internal citation omitted); see also Manual Third § 30.41 (approving 7 use of combined class notice and settlement notice where appropriate).
 8

9 VII. PROPOSED SCHEDULE

10 Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court schedule the dates required by, and 11 set forth in the [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Settlement 12 and Directing Dissemination of Notice to the Class. Specifically, Plaintiffs 13 request the Court schedule the following dates:

14 Last day to complete mailing of Notice and 15 Proof of Claim Form and to publish Summary 16 Notice	At least 60 days before deadline for objections
17 Last day for filing and serving papers in 18 support of final approval of the proposed 19 Settlement, and the applications for Fee and 20 Expense Awards.	At least 42 days prior to Final Approval Hearing
21 Last day for Settlement Class Members to 22 submit comments in support of or in 23 opposition to the proposed Settlement, and 24 the applications for Fee and Expense Awards.	At least 35 days prior to Final Approval Hearing

1 Last day for potential Settlement Class 2 Members to request exclusion from the 3 Settlement Class.	At least 35 days prior to Final Approval Hearing
4 Last day for filing and serving papers in 5 response to objections to the proposed 6 Settlement, and the applications for Fee and 7 Expense Awards.	At least 14 days prior to Final Approval Hearing
8 Final Approval Hearing 9 10	At least 110 days from after entry of Preliminary Approval Order

11
 12 VIII. CONCLUSION

13 The proposed Settlement is presumptively fair and presents no obvious 14 deficiencies. Accordingly, the Court should grant preliminary approval of the 15 proposed Settlement and enter an order substantially in the form of the 16 accompanying [Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Settlement 17 and Directing Dissemination of Notice to Class.
